Sandy Somerville Suffers Defeat

Canadian Press
St. Annes, Eng., May 20.—C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, London, Ont., former United States amateur golf champion, was eliminated in the first round of the British amateur championship today by Leslie Halliwell, Perth, Lancashire. The score was 2 to 1.
Lawson Little Jr., San Francisco, defending titleholder, had some narrow escapes before he finally defeated T. H. Parker, England, by one up. Little was forced to make some sensational recoveries to get by his first opponent.
Somerville had been three down to his opponent at the halfway mark. That was the second defeat of the day for the Canadian contingent. O'Donnell Higgins, Montreal, not a regular team member, was eliminated by W. R. Knowles Jr., Brooklyn, Mass., 2 and 1.
Phil Farley, Toronto, knocked out W. H. Catterall, playing his home course, 2 and 1, and Bud Thompson, Worcester, 2 and 1.
PLAYED BAD GOLF
"I just played bad golf and deserved to lose," said Sandy ruefully after the match. He was not at his best form anywhere on the course. He took 48, nine over par, for the first nine.
Starting the home nine Sandy Somerville took the twelfth and sixteenth (Turn to Page 5, Col. 5)

Canadian Press
San Antonio, Tex., May 20.—Announcement was made today at the nineteenth annual convention of Kiwanis International that all clubs connected with the organization in Canada will observe Canadian citizenship week, June 30 to July 6.
The observance will be directed by the committee on public affairs for Canada. Gordon S. Dodington, Toronto, is chairman. Lester McTaggart, Moose Jaw, Sask., and Henry C. Murphy, Halifax, are other members of the committee.
Members prepared for the study of civic problems, child welfare, adult education, taxation and economy and efficiency in government and public schools. The convention will last four days.
NEW SOCIAL FRONTIERS
Dr. William J. Cunningham, Atlantic City, N.J., president of Kiwanis International, urged a rebirth of the spirit of the pioneers. "New social frontiers challenge us everywhere," he declared. "Fortunately Canada and the United States are free from the hot flames of nationalism! What does Kiwanis do ahead in the future? Continued membership, service and extension into new fields."
Kiwanis has made in the past year an indication that we are forgetting the depression," he said.
ALL-KIWANIS NIGHT
This evening more than 1,247 clubs in twenty-two countries of the North American continent will meet simultaneously at 8 o'clock, C.S.T. (7 p.m., Victoria time), to observe All-Kiwanis night. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 5)

PLANE VICTIMS ARE BURIED

Russia Mourns Gorky Disaster; Three More Great Planes to Be Built

Associated Press
Moscow, May 20.—A desperate battle in a motion picture plane accompanying the Maxim Gorky at the time of Saturday's disaster was disclosed today as having almost caused a second accident.
Meanwhile, despite the calamitous crash of the world's largest land plane, the Soviet states it will build three more planes of the same type.
The pilot of a smaller plane, V. Rybushkin, said that after the stunt plane of Pilot Magin had crashed into the Gorky on Saturday, a motion picture operator lost his head and leaped on him (Rybushkin) in an attempt to strangle him and pull him away from the controls.
"I lost command of my ship. It went into a spin, and there was nothing for me to do but to strike my companion in the face," Pilot Rybushkin said.
It was not disclosed whether the operator filmed the crash in which forty-nine persons lost their lives before he became panicky.
Rybushkin said he heard Ivan Mikheev, one of the Gorky pilots, warn Pilot Magin, who was operating the plane, of the danger of collision, against stunting before the plane took off.

JACOB EPSTEIN QUILTS ACADEMY

Associated Press
London, May 20.—Jacob Epstein, distinguished sculptor, has angrily turned in his resignation from the Royal Academy, branding its members "a company of blockheads."

"It is not an Academy affair," The Daily Express quoted Sir William as saying.

Associated Press
Washington, May 20.—President Roosevelt today appointed Norman Armour of New Jersey, present minister to Haiti, to be United States minister to Canada, succeeding the late Warren G. Maguire.
The appointment of Mr. Armour to the Ottawa post had been authoritatively forecast for some time.
Mr. Armour, a veteran of twenty years in the United States diplomatic service, is forty-eight years old. He was born in Brighton, England, of United States parents. While attached to the United States embassy at Petrograd, Mr. Armour married the Russian actress Myra Kouschakoff in 1919. They have one son, Norman.

Mr. King, Liberal Leader, Welcomes Premier Back and Expresses Pleasure His Health Improved

No Cabinet Word Yet On Leadership

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 20.—Premier R. B. Bennett took his seat in the House of Commons this afternoon, the first time since his illness began last February.
As the House resumed its session, swinging off on its pre-election drive, Mr. Bennett informed the members of the fact a committee of departmental officials is studying exports of nickel from Canada.
At the same time, he indicated the government had no intention of placing an embargo against nickel exports on the ground they were being used for war purposes.
ADJUSTMENT WITH JAPAN
The committee was seeking information from Japan and Japan's League of Nations economic authorities as to the extent of the nickel trade in Japan and whether a sincere effort was being made to find a satisfactory adjustment which would be fair both to Canadian exporters and to Japan, he said.
J. S. Woodworth, leader of the C.C.F., asked if an embargo would be placed by the government.
The Prime Minister said reports to the government did not indicate shipment of nickel was being made directly from Canada to warring nations or to armament manufacturers. Large quantities of nickel were shipped from Canada to Germany and Japan, he said, but that was beyond the control of the Canadian government or any other government.
This afternoon, before the Commons members gathered for the afternoon sitting, the Cabinet met. Questions of the future leadership of the government and the Conservative Party were discussed only in a general way at the ministerial meeting, and no official information was available as to the close of the gathering. Whether Mr. Bennett will continue as leader or retire to take the rest of his political career on his own terms, may not be decided for a week or two.

QUIET FUNERAL FOR LAWRENCE

Famous People Pay Tribute to "Uncrowned King of Arabia" Who Died in England Early Yesterday, a Poor Man

Canadian Press
London, May 20.—From many sources today came expressions of regret at the death yesterday of Col. T. E. Lawrence, whose Great War exploits won him the title "Lawrence of Arabia."
In accordance with the simplicity and selflessness of Col. Lawrence's life, the funeral to-morrow will be attended only by a few intimate friends and there will be nothing of the pomp which might have been accorded the Great War hero.
The body will be buried near his country cottage in Dorsetshire.
His grief-stricken brother made the dead man's wishes known in a note to close friends.
"In accordance with his own wishes and those of his family it is desired no flowers be sent and that only a few intimate friends attend the funeral, which will be very simple," said the note.
VISCOUNT ALLENBY'S TRIBUTE
Viscount Allenby, closely connected with Lawrence in his campaign in Palestine and Syria in 1917-18, said: "He shared with the Arabs their dangers. Among those desert raiders there was none who would not willingly have died for his chief. He radiated a magnetic personality and influenced all who came in contact with him."

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Prith, went to Perth Saturday and was riding the freight train with another young boy, Peter Evans, en route home.
James, who was riding on the top of the freight car, fell off and was killed when the train stopped. His body was found by a passing train.
His parents, a younger brother and a sister, survive him.

CANADA SOON TO LOSE ALL DOUKHOBORS

Peter Verigin Says Colonies' 35-year-stay in Canada Drawing to Close, But Country For New Home Not Yet Chosen

Chaco Report Is Baseless, He Says

Canadian Press
Yonkers, N.Y., May 20.—Peter Verigin, Doukhobor chieftain, will in the near future lead his followers from Canada to some other land, "but we are not going to Paraguay," he said during a two-hour address before his people.
He also intimated he would likely resign from the leadership of the community for a time in order that all legal entanglements might be settled, and that he intended to take a two-year holiday in Europe.
DESCRIBED AS DODGE
After the meeting a reporter asked Verigin to comment further on a Washington dispatch which reported that all Canadian Doukhobors would move to Paraguay.
"Tell them they are 100 per cent crazy," he said with a laugh. "It is merely a dodge to put an end to the trouble between Paraguay and Bolivia. If it were true, that 20,000 Doukhobors would go to Paraguay, it would have quite an influence on the long wars which have been raging between those two countries. Those who started that story did so for a purpose, and it is absolutely without foundation."
TIME WILL TELL
Verigin returned to his home shortly before midnight and found hundreds of his followers gathered to welcome him. Visibly tired, he opened his address by saying only time would tell to what new land the Doukhobors would migrate.
"My people," he said, "must live in a land where they will be free from outside interference. I would be sorry to leave Canada as I love it very much, but I fear Canada will not (Turn to Page 5, Col. 6)

SEVEN BEFORE MAGISTRATE

John Cameron and Others in Court in Vancouver; Conversation Repeated

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 20.—John Cameron, Lou S. Barrack, Joe Swartz, Wally Cole, Joe Alvaro, Eugene Valente and Joe Celona appeared before Magistrate MacKenzie Matheson in police court today for continuation of their preliminary hearing on charges of conspiring to create a public mischief.
Evidence given by Mrs. Margaret Roy, former chamber maid at the Maple Hotel, was objected to on a legal technicality by C. S. Arnold, counsel for Cameron, but the objection was not sustained by the magistrate.
Mrs. Roy testified she had conversed with Celona in front of the hotel a week before his trial and conviction in the same court on a white slavery charge.
"I know I am a bad man, but I do not want anything tagged on to me," she quoted Celona as saying.
She said he told her he had been called by Cameron to the latter's house a week before Clarence Bancroft was prosecuted on a white slavery charge. There Cameron allegedly told him there was to be a prosecution against Bancroft and for him to tell Bancroft's father to get his son away.
The witness said Celona told her he had refused to do this and told Cameron to do it himself. The next day, Celona said, Cameron telephoned the hotel and gave a message to Frank Turpin, one of the partners in the hotel.

Seattle-Alaska Ss. Denali Sinks Off B.C. Island

Vessel Runs on Reef Off Zayas Island, in North and Breaks in Two After All on Board, Including Two Stowaways, Taken Off

Associated Press
Seattle, May 20.—A half-million-dollar loss, including her cargo, the Alaska Steamship Company's steamship Denali by at the bottom of the Pacific today, after she had shattered forepeak, which hung on a reef off Zayas Island, Alaska.
But her seven passengers, eight officers, twenty-three crew members and four stowaways, taken off by the United States coast guard cutter Cyane yesterday before the grounded vessel was broken in two and sank, were safe at Ketchikan, Alaska.
Company officials here said the vessel was valued at between $500,000 and $600,000 and her cargo, including 100 tons of dynamite and much coal and mining machinery, was worth as much more.
First news of the Alaska-bound vessel's plight was flashed to the army signal corps radio station at Ketchikan in an SOS at 5:15 a.m. yesterday. Within an hour, the Cyane was speeding through heavy weather and thick fog to the rescue.
GET AWAY
But by 5:30 reports to the coast guard division headquarters here said the vessel was listing so badly and the seas were so rough that it was necessary to take two lifeboats overboard, taking passengers and stowaways, all reported to be country workers, and some of the crew, ashore.
Capt. Thomas S. Beatty, the Denali's master, Frank Month, radio operator, and other officers, however, stayed with the distressed vessel. At 6:15 a.m. the radio went out of commission and two hours later the Cyane appeared out of the storm.
She found the Denali beginning to buckle and immediately reduced speed and headed for Ketchikan. She was able to save the Denali's life, but the vessel was so badly damaged that it was necessary to take the passengers and crew off the vessel. The vessel was then abandoned.

New Camp Plan For Relief Men Vetoed

Vancouver Suggests Strikers Occupy Federal Area at Point Grey Till Settlement Reached, But Ottawa Does Not Agree

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 20.—Vancouver strike officials proposed to the Dominion Government today that the Point Grey relief camp here be used temporarily to accommodate unemployed strikers who in the city, but they state the suggestion has been refused.
In a telegram to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett today, Mayor G. G. McGeer declared Mayor-General A. G. L. McLaughlin, chief of the military branch of the Department of National Defence, had rejected the suggestion.
"If you do not override McLaughlin's arbitrary attitude there will be serious trouble in Vancouver," the mayor wired. "The city has done all it can and has no resources left. The situation is critical and our suggestion was made in order to avoid bloodshed."
WOULD USE TENTS
The proposal was that tents should be erected at the Point Grey camp to increase its accommodation.
The mayor added that on Saturday he had authorized two days' relief for the camp strikers in the hope the British Columbia government would pay the bill.
"The provincial government has declined to assist, however," he said, "and I am personally responsible for the $1,000 cost."
Mr. McGeer said the city council had no power to issue relief to the strikers. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 6)

BIG FRUIT CROP LOSSES IN ENGLAND

Canadian Press
London, May 20.—Although nearly 2,000,000 tons of rain fell in Britain during the week-end, it was feared today the fall would be too late to save fruit crops from severe loss. Insurance here has been caused in Devon's elder apple orchards and Lincolnshire's flat areas are black with frost and drought-ridden potato crops. Strawberry and plum harvests have been delayed and in Kent farmers estimate three-quarters of their fruit crops have been ruined.

Beatty Makes Clear Railway Proposals

C.P.R. Head Suggests C.P.R.-C.N.R. Unified Management, With Two Systems Sharing Savings

Toronto, May 20.—E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told members of the Canadian Club here today he wished to make clear his stand on railway problems in Canada, and urged his listeners to consider the question "as one transcending party boundaries."
The president said his position had been misrepresented and he answered in detail twelve questions put forward in a recent speech by Hon. J. Manion, Minister of Railways. Canada's economic growth also was discussed by Mr. Beatty, who declared the creation of new wealth through agricultural and industrial development was a fundamental economic necessity for both east and west. He expressed optimism regarding Canada's wheat problems and said renewal of faith in agriculture was the first necessity for economic recovery.
TWO QUESTIONS
Recalling the address of Dr. Manion, the speaker said he would like to ask the minister and other critics of Mr. Beatty's unification proposals, two questions:
"Can labor, or others dependent on railway operation for their existence, be assured of employment, of stability of earnings, or of their present standard of living, if the industry on which they depend is unable to earn a return on the money invested?"
"And will a country like Canada prosper if one of its major industries supporting one-seventh of the population, can be kept alive only by subsidies derived in the final analysis from general taxation?"
"With this introduction," he continued, "I shall answer the questions (Turn to Page 5, Col. 7)

Steps Made Toward Strike Settlement

TRAGEDY SEEN AT YAKIMA

Associated Press
Yakima, Wash., May 20.—Yakima shaved off their beards, put away their hairpins and tore down their Wild West false store fronts today when they celebrated three Frontier Day celebrations upon the front corner of the two-story Henry Building collapsed, killing one and injuring twenty-two.
Victims, eight, of the tragedy were killed in the rain of falling bricks, mortar and steel work. Three of the thirty-two—Leon Barrick, twelve, Emma, Wallace Warner, Yakima, and Diet Van Driel, Spokane, were critically injured. It is stated they may die.
The accident halted the parade until the injured were removed to a hospital by Tacoma National Guard cavalrymen and state patrolmen. Then it went on, and thousands came to see the old days revive in pageantry did not know of the accident until after the parade, meantime, the city commissioners had called an emergency meeting and authorized an immediate investigation.

Agreement Reached on Three Companies in Bridge River; Premier Patullo's View

Settlement of the Bridge River miners' strike today hinged upon agreement as to the wages which will be paid by Wayide and Congress mines.
Management of Pioneer, Bralorne and Braden Mines on Saturday accepted a proposal of Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, for a scale of $5.49 for underground miners, $4.50 for muckers and $4 for for surface men.
The strike committee also agreed to this scale contingent upon Wayide and Congress also paying it. The government had been unable today to get a definite answer from Congress but was informed by Wayide officials that $5 was the limit it could pay for miners.
There the matter stood, but Premier Patullo cut across the picture with a statement in which he said the demands of the miners was "unreasonable." His full statement follows:
"I understand that an agreement as to wage scale has been reached on the part of Pioneer, Bralorne and Braden Mines are concerned, but that the men are holding out for a similar scale as Wayide and Congress Mines."
"In my opinion it is unreasonable. I believe that the workers at a whole want to be reasonable but (Turn to Page 5, Col. 7)

Meat Problem In Great Britain

Minister of Agriculture Adheres to Complicated Schemes

By GEORGE HANLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, May 20.—Sir John Gorton, Minister of Agriculture, is determined to stick to his meat policy.

In a week-end address at Moulton, Northamptonshire, he assured British farmers the government has no intention of acquiescing in the "ruin" of the British livestock industry.

He said the government's policy is to keep the livestock industry, livestock and farming alive in this country, he said.

"Science has come to stay," he said, referring to the government's complicated marketing schemes, "and I urge you to take advantage of what it offers you. You must master it or it will master you."

Yet the impact upon the British livestock industry of the government's policy of maintaining the livestock industry, he said, is not yet clear.

The British meat policy continues to be a subject of controversy, with a preference in favor of the dominions. But—owing to the Ottawa and Argentine agreements—British cannot, without the consent of the countries concerned, impose a duty on dominion meat before August, 1937, or on Argentine meat before November, 1938. And this consent Mr. Gorton has failed to secure.

ULTIMATUM FORGOTTEN
The London Daily Herald, anti-government, in its news columns charges Mr. Gorton is preparing a meat ultimatum—Agree now or the terms will be harsher next year. He is desperately trying, asserts The Herald, to "range behind him every meat interest in this country. His idea is to get this backing, then shake the big stick at Australia and other dominions, Argentina and all foreign countries."

GREAT THRONG HEARS POPE

Several Thousand British Pilgrims Attend Canonization of Two at St. Peter's

By ANDREW BIRDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Vatican City, May 20.—Pius brought the return of England to the Roman Catholic Church in a sermon to 50,000 persons attending the canonization of two British martyrs yesterday.

Sir Thomas More and Bishop John Fisher, executed 400 years ago by order of Henry VIII for opposing his marriage to Anne Boleyn, were made saints by Pope Pius XI in a gorgeous ceremony at St. Peter's.

The pontiff urged his audience to pray that England might return to Rome, declaring:

"We desire that with your ardent prayers invoking patronage of the new saints you ask of the Lord that which is so dear to our heart, namely that England, in the words of Saint Paul, meditating the happy consummation which crowned the life of the two martyrs, may follow them in their faith and return to the father's house in unity, faith and knowledge of the Son of God."

ANCIENT GLORIES

"Let those who are still separated from us consider, attentively, the ancient glories of their church, which were at once the reflection and the increment of the glories of the Church of Rome."

"Let them consider, moreover, and remember that this Apostolic See has been waiting for them so long and so anxiously, not as coming to a strange dwelling place, but as finally returning to their paternal home."

The pope said the church—founded by Jesus Christ—was destined never to perish.

Special seats were given several thousand British pilgrims here for the ceremony. Many British bishops were among them. Former King Alfonso of Spain and his family were present. The throng of 50,000 released a great cheer when the pope pronounced the two martyrs saints. He declared in Latin that they "be inscribed on the Catalogue of the Saints and their memory be celebrated in the universal church every year with pious devotion."

How to ROUND THE TURNS
AND CURVES SAFELY

HERE is a safety suggestion made by one of our General Motors engineers. Perhaps you might be interested in checking it with your own driving habits.

Briefly, he said:

"Always slow up before you come to a curve in the highway—then, when you meet it, accelerate around the bend. Racing up to a curve at high speed, then jamming down on the brakes as you turn, makes it difficult to retain the complete car control you should have at all times."

If you are not in the habit of negotiating highway bends in this safe and simple way, try it next time you're out in your car. You will find it easy to acquire the knack.

KNEE-ACTION

on General Motors quality cars enables you to take the curves with safety

MOST people think of Knee-Action as giving the ultimate in riding comfort... in freedom from bumps, jars and jolts. But in millions of miles of driving owners of General Motors cars have proved that Knee-Action is also a fundamental improvement in driving safety!

There is no rigid front axle or stiff front springs in a Knee-Action car to tie both front wheels together—therefore, you don't experience that "pulling" sensation that you notice when rounding a curve in a conventional car.

Moreover, these soft Knee-Action coil springs have nothing to do except absorb the bumps—they are divorced from the steering system. Thus you enjoy Shockless Steering that makes driving safer and easier at all times.

Odd Derby Is Seen In Seattle

Men Run Fifty Yards With Calico Cats and Candles in Park

Associated Press

Seattle, May 20.—Having watched Dr. D. Jones win the cat-putting-out "world championship" by running fifty yards in his nightgown, keeping a candle lit while he put out a calico cat yesterday, Mayor Charles Smith was looking today for new fields to conquer and new Seattle parks to put on the map.

Yesterday's cat derby (not pronounced darby) drew about 6,000 men, women and bathing-suited children to Golden Gardens Park. The mayor's first derby, in which a bevy of broken-down, spavined and ringbone horses staggered over a course in Woodland Park a few weeks ago, also drew its thousands.

Yesterday, after seeing Dr. Jones and five others put out calico cats, and watching Bill Haapla tote fifty pounds of ice to beat his fellow contestants in an "ice man's race" for a prize from the city, Mayor Smith made a speech.

He said that until the mayor started thinking of derbies, about the only Seattleites who made use of the parks were the children. He said the mayor's derbies were wild and woolly, but he hoped they would become wilder and woollier and that more grownups would use the parks.

And then he made a suggestion. He suggested there be a park derby for women contestants.

The mayor took it to heart. He said today that Lincoln Park, in West Seattle, probably would be the next derby scene.

LAWRENCE OF ARABIA

BEFORE REACHING THE AGE OF fifty, that fighter, poet, and author, Colonel T. E. Lawrence, known both as the "uncrowned King of Arabia" and "Aircraftman Shaw," has passed away, leaving a legend of mystery and romance which will expand with the years.

It was Lawrence who aroused the Arabs against the Turk at a time when this was of vital importance to Britain's share in the Near East, and helped in the conquest of Palestine by Field Marshal Lord Allenby. Perhaps more than anyone else he was the author of an emancipated Arabia, which later was unscathed—owing "to the intricate play of international diplomacy."

Disillusioned, Lawrence of Arabia refused all honors and rank, and became Aircraftman Shaw. But the world did not forget, and from all quarters came flooding tributes to his nobility of character, his never-failing thought for what he considered the well-being of the land in which he was born. Recognizing him as perhaps the most romantic and yet the most enigmatic personality of modern times, George Bernard Shaw, from Durban, South Africa, to-day has this to say of him: "What about Westminster Abbey... his country, which refused to give him a small pension, owes him at least a stone."

It is not possible in the space here to quote others eminent in public life, letters, and politics, who have paid their tributes. But we get an insight into the mind of Lawrence from one of his last letters, which he wrote to Thomas W. Besant, who was attached to an armored car squadron commanded by Lawrence in Arabia during the Great War. In it he wrote: "On March 12, 1935, I became a private citizen and shall have the honor and difficulty of paying for myself. My savings are on the short side, but if there is anything left for traveling expenses, you will see me at Dewbury.... Can you fancy me with a long beard, wearing gaiters and talking about turnips? When you answer this, forget the 'Colonel' and the rest of it. I AM A VERY PLAIN SORT OF CREATURE NOW." This was signed "Shaw."

M. FLANDIN ON FREEDOM

PEACE IS AN EXPANSIVE TERM. CO-OPERATION with the peace, international peace, civilization organized to safeguard frontiers against war makers, is the first step only, said M. Flandin, Premier of France, in an interview with Mr. Edward Price Bell, recorded in "The Literary Digest."

After that must come social, economic, and monetary peace, continued M. Flandin. There must be a healthy, an intelligent and friendly, international social atmosphere; there must be that liberal economic reciprocity for which the interests of mankind urgently call; and there must be international monetary stabilization in order that industry and commerce may carry on and grow. To quote the French Premier again:

"Until we get these, nothing can be normal internationally; enemies will persist; unemployment will increase rather than diminish; trade will be paralyzed, and every politico-economic order will live under a perpetual threat of destruction."

"Personally, I feel that the vision of freedom, and the determination to have it, are likely, in time, to become the overmastering impulses of all civilized peoples. Mankind's problems are many, and they will not grow less."

"I consider the atmosphere of freedom, the magic of freedom, the only moral element of sufficient fundamental vigor for the solution of these problems. 'I should hate to think otherwise. For, after all, why are we here? Are we here to glorify imperialism? Are we here to worship deities which divert us of our identity?'"

"My notion is that government was made for man, not man for government. My notion is also that man eventually will run his government, and not allow his government to run him."

SASKATCHEWAN'S MINERALS

TODAY THE PRAIRIE FARMER WHO seeks an assured living without dependence on the fluctuations in price and market for export wheat must secure an adequate market for the products of his farm.

This is where the minerals underlying the prairies are playing their part—a part that will be of increasing importance from now on, though few even of those living on the prairies realize it as yet. It required a world-wide depression, a spectacular rise in the price of gold and unexampled activity in the gold mines to make the Canadian people realize the importance of this particular mineral to the country. It will require somewhat similar occurrences to bring a popular realization of what the minerals under the prairie can do for the prairie provinces; but fortunately, enough people know the facts to ensure the development of these minerals.

The important minerals that underlie the prairies in Saskatchewan are described in the May bulletin of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy by Professor W. C. Worcester of the University of Saskatchewan, who has been active in developing them. First in importance comes coal, of which a million tons was produced last year. This coal can be placed by the steam shovel method and is cheap. Professor Worcester recommends that steps be taken to provide from it a supply of producer-gas, which is useful in numerous manufacturing processes and will be the means of attracting industries to the urban centers.

Saskatchewan is blessed with a wide variety of the clay used to make chinaware, stoneware, porcelain, floor and wall tiles, as well as the heavier and coarser ware down to building brick. At present more of the clay is shipped to the cheap natural gas of Alberta to be manufactured than is used in Saskatchewan.

There is an opportunity for a much more extensive use of the clays in Saskatchewan itself.

A few years ago the alkali clays of Saskatchewan were merely a nuisance. To-day they are an increasing source of revenue, last year's output of sodium sulphate from a few of the sloughs being worth $500,000. Similarly the "gumbo" clays found in places, more precisely known as bentonite, are now beginning to be used industrially. Volcanic ash, salt, marl and ochre are other minerals of lesser importance.

All told, the minerals of Saskatchewan can be counted on to play an important part in helping the change to mixed farming, by creating industries in the nearby towns that will provide an increasing industrial population, the best market the farmers could have.

MR. BENNETT BETTER

A DISPATCH FROM OTTAWA TO-DAY tells us that Premier Bennett arrived at the Parliament Buildings this morning wearing a grey cut-away suit and presenting a picture of vibrant health and energy. He had walked briskly to the Privy Council chamber carrying an armful of files and a heavily-packed brief case.

All Canadians will be glad to hear that the Prime Minister has recovered so much of his health and vigor. He has put in five of the most strenuous years of his life—and the labors to which he has addressed himself naturally have imposed their toll of his vitality. It is a pity that when he assumed office he did not delegate more of the duties of administration to some of the other members of his cabinet.

Now that Mr. Bennett is back "on the job," however, the Canadian people will expect him to tell them when the general election will be held. As he enters upon his parliamentary duties again he finds that his Minister of Finance, Mr. Rhodes, also is ill and advised by his physician to take a further rest, the suggestion being that he will not be back in the House of Commons until the end of the week.

Such advice as the opposition may give Mr. Bennett, of course, would not be taken; but he has been told that he would save himself much disturbance if he asked the Governor-General to dissolve Parliament and called a general election as quickly as possible.

There is much important legislation before the House which should not become law until the public has had a chance to express its opinion on it, without any undue delay.

POOR ECONOMICS

TO THOSE WHO SEEM TO BE LOSING sleep at nights wondering when Mr. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons and leader of the Liberal party of Canada, is going to announce his platform—we, of course, quoted extensively in these columns the other day from his speeches in the House as quoted in Hansard—we commend, for example, something about Liberalism and the railways.

Here is a table showing the value of Canadian imports and exports and the revenues of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways for a period of years. There is scant possibility of expansion of business without reduction of tariffs and no possibility of reduction of tariffs without a change of government. Here are the figures which tell a tale, compared with Tory and Liberal rule:

	Imports	Exports
1927	1,087,117,880	1,258,782,004
1928	1,229,317,916	1,274,130,197
1929	1,398,992,690	1,308,550,430
1930	1,008,479,478	806,460,383
1931	628,090,386	617,343,023
1932	463,614,587	501,899,326
1933	401,254,311	537,508,439
1934	818,499,497	659,900,090

	Railway Revenues—C.N.R.	C.P.R.
1926	$225,547,859	$197,636,315
1927	227,560,927	201,805,468
1928	260,618,925	250,406,384
1929	248,222,478	211,438,061
1930	213,444,261	180,922,387
1931	171,675,448	147,126,350
1932	129,948,317	129,500,370
1933	128,701,239	113,908,657
1934	140,254,261	126,043,329

Let there be no mistake in this matter. It was not by accident that trade declined. The action of the government was deliberately taken. The leader of the Conservative party, before he became Premier, stated distinctly that if he was given power he would restrict the volume of imports into the Dominion by $300,000,000, or possibly $500,000,000. No sane economist in the world would deny the fact that restriction of imports carries with it restriction of exports—and curtailment of domestic business.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NOT LOAN COMPANIES
The Stratford Beacon-Herald

We believe the chief concern of a good many Canadians is that our insurance companies should be kept in a strong position. There are too many people who are trusting these companies with the very serious business of making provision for their dependents. In that way an insurance company is in a position to itself. The people who depend on it do not want to be weakened or embarrassed; they want it to be in a position where it can carry out its obligations to the last dollar.

BROCKVILLE WAS FIRST
The Brockville Recorder

There have been many commentaries who have acted as administrators or deputies of the Governor-General since the time of the creation of the office. It has often been contended that Sir W. B. Richards, a native of Brockville and a mere knight, was the first native Canadian to serve in the room and stead of the Governor-General, which he did while Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada. But before Confederation, Sir William Fenwick Williams, Bart., then Commander-in-Chief in British North America and known as "the hero of Esau," filled in for Sir Edmund Head in 1869-71, and he was born in Nova Scotia.

A THOUGHT

From I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not so the world gives, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.—St. John xiv. 27.

For great comfort to peace seekers with us, vision, ambition, envy, anger, and pride, in the end, mine was to be banished, to be should include only perpetual peace.—Petrarch.

Loose Ends

We'll get to the main ring stage shortly—Mr. Hepburn is discussing the obvious—and the public grows cynical.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

THE MALE

A GENTLEMAN who is an authority on such matters has written to say that I didn't comprehend the full significance of the subject when I made some ignorant remarks the other day about the new fashion of earrings among young-men-about-Calgary. This authority, a fellow who has made a life study of men's styles and psychology, tells me that thousands of young-men-about-Calgary would wear earrings if they possessed the necessary fortitude. They don't do it because they lack the courage of the young-men-about-Calgary. But a number of them have their hair shaved, he tells me.

"And did you ever notice," he said, "the ears for wrist watches that have swept the country of late years? Every young-buck has to have a wrist watch. Why do you suppose this is?"

In my ignorance I said I supposed it was because the young buck wanted to know the time and not other people. At this the expert laughed.

"Time," he said, "has nothing to do with it. They like the feel and look of a bracelet on their wrist. If they dared, they would wear bracelets set with diamonds. But as they haven't got quite the nerve necessary for that, they wear wrist watches, which are the next best thing. It's the feel of them they like, the sense of decoration, the same primitive urge which makes Hottentots put rings through their noses. And, of course, like the finer plumage of the male bird, it is all part of the mating instinct which has been provided by a wise nature to perpetuate the race."

"Apparently in these dull times," I said, "the perpetuation of the race depends on a wrist watch."

"Don't say that," said the expert. "The craving for wrist watches is a very significant phenomenon, of importance to all students of psychology. It shows you that men are not changing underneath. They are still the vainest sex, but they hide it on account of their very vanity. Eventually this vanity will assert itself and instead of wrist watches you will see bracelets set with jewels, and after that earrings, and eventually men will paint their faces, just as they did during the period of the Renaissance, which was the greatest period of human genius and progress. The race only started to slow up and go to the dogs when men began to wear wrist watches. While they were peacocks, the world was young and happy."

It may be, therefore, that Calgary has hit on something important.

GREAT ISSUE

NO FAMILY IN HISTORY, I suppose, was subjected to so much gossip and interference by busybodies as the productive Dionnes. Even out in Vancouver, newspaper editors find it necessary to take sides on that great national question—whether the babies should be returned to their parents or not. On the eve of a federal election, in the middle of events which have shaken Confederation to its bottom, more people are interested in the quintuplets than in the state of politics, which shows you that people are still human despite all efforts to prevent it.

But what I consider the final contribution to the argument about the fate of the little Dionnes came from a Vancouver commentator, who declared that when Premier Hepburn took them away from their parents there was no encouragement for any other Ontario woman to have quintuplets ever again. He thinks that if the world is to be made safe for quintuplets, Mr. Hepburn should be got out of the way immediately. Still, on investigating the matter, I find, if I remember the figure right, that quintuplets occur only once in

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"We should have taken that after the dance made us in 1914."

$3,000,000 worth. I hardly think the Hepburn government is likely to be alive when the next lot comes in Ontario.

OBVIOUS

MR. MARCOSMAN, the able gentleman who elaborates the obvious with great diligence for The Saturday Evening Post, had an article the other day to show how the world wasn't merely arming in a military fashion, but also in an economic fashion. His facts and statistics, while tedious, were impressive and left you no doubt that the world has never been at peace since 1914. It has merely had a slight pause in the active military phase and has been engaged in the same struggle, with economic weapons, ever since the false dawn of Versailles.

But the obvious thing which Mr. Marcosman goes to so much trouble to skirt around is that the present military armament, the rush towards war, the monumental insanity of the European tribes, are all the logical and inevitable result of the present economic arrangements. They are merely the military aspect of the economic struggle; merely the preparation to support with cannon and machine gun the economic attack which every nation is already making on every other—a battle in which Canada under its present policies is an active and formidable combatant.

When every nation is determined to sell more than it buys—in order to provide a profit for the owner of the machine, when the home population isn't allowed sufficient wages to buy the machine's product—then you have the familiar struggle of tariffs, embargo, quotas, dump duties.

In the next stage of this madness, when you can't hold your markets, when they are grabbed by some other nation in need of a place to sell its goods while its population starves, you must fight for your dumping ground. The United States, for example, could survive quite comfortably if the whole Orient sank into the sea—if its economic arrangements at home were reasonably organized. But it is building a vast army and navy—over $1,000,000,000 for war this year—in order, if necessary, to fight Japan for the Oriental market.

Under the existing arrangements this is perfectly logical. For it is a fundamental truth which the politicians completely ignore that if you intend to continue exploiting other nations, when you intend to keep dumping surplus when you refuse to trade on an equitable basis, when you intend to maintain a high living standard at the expense of other people's low standard, then eventually you must fight, with cannon and machine guns, to maintain that position. You must abandon that position or go to war.

The great powers seem to have made their decision already. They have decided, when the time is ripe, to go to war. And Canada, for all its neutrality and its cry of peace, is directly involved in this struggle. By her present policies she is one of the leaders in it.

CAN'T TRUST 'EM

ON ALL SIDES you hear the complaint that people are breaking letter chains. Everybody expecting to get something for nothing at the expense of somebody else, is complaining that the world isn't honest any more. People who proposed to bet at least $1,000 for ten cents, are growing cynical about the integrity of the community. The average man, they tell me, won't even put up a nickel now to avoid breaking the chain and his honor.

But, bless you, the public can't even maintain unbroken a chain which doesn't cost it anything. The public can't even maintain a chain of simple information for more than 100 yards. Last week-end, for example, I heard when I was in town that the police were investigating a Mr. So-and-So who was reputed to have started rather too many chain letters and made $1,500.

At the service station on the way home the boys told me that the police were going to prosecute Mr. So-and-So and his chain letters which had made him $15,000. In the afternoon Mr. Peckery, passing with a load of good stuff, stopped to tell me that the police had arrested Mr.

So-and-so and found that he had made $150,000.

And later on, Mr. So-and-so had got ten years, but what did it matter since he was reputed to have made close to $1,500,000, though Mr. So-and-so considered this exaggerated. Still, he was a little concerned since he had started a chain of his own in an effort to recover the time he lost in Mr. Peckery's monumental swindle.

MAY QUEEN CONTEST

To the Editor—May 1, through the medium of your valuable paper, extend my sincere thanks to all those who so faithfully supported me during the May Queen Contest, also the Festival of England, who sponsored me, and Mr. Graham, who spent much valuable time on my behalf as campaign manager.

I also wish to congratulate Miss Lillian Grant, not forgetting the committee who so ably conducted this contest. MISS M. CLARKE, 46 Stone Avenue, Victoria, May 20.

CONGRATULATIONS

To the Editor—Kindly grant space to say congratulations to those who won in our May Queen contest. To those who lost the best of luck. To Miss Patricia Petherbridge, in whose campaign I had the pleasure of assisting, hearty congratulations on so magnificent a vote, which was due to her pleasing personality and excellent organizing ability.

Anyone who ever sold votes for May Queen candidates will understand it entails no small amount of real work to sell 44,000 votes. Here I might mention no money was raised or donated to buy votes for Miss Petherbridge, therefore great credit is due charming "Pat" for pulling up so handsome a score.

MRS. ALICE MCGREGOR, 1190 Camrose Crescent, Victoria, May 18.

THANKS FOR SUPPORT

To the Editor—I take this opportunity to give my heartfelt thanks to all my friends, known and unknown, who so loyally and generously supported me in the May 24 May Queen contest.

Although being a place by a small margin, I feel happy at securing 40,000 votes, gained by the sale of tickets only.

I also wish to convey my sincere thanks to Mrs. Alice McGregor for championing me at different times and Mr. Donald Mulcahy, my assistant, for his loyalty and help; also Mr. Richard, the contest manager, and his office staff for their courtesy and thoroughness, and lastly, to the Home Oil stations for the amount of 64.50 collected in tickets.

PATRICIA PETHERBRIDGE, 1728 Clarendon Street, Victoria, May 17.

NOT ENOUGH

To the Editor—I am not a logger but I know something of the outfit necessary to cope with conditions in the B.C. woods. Mr. Pattullo offers $10, for the purchase of clothing, to the young men he proposes to send into the forestry service.

Knowing that Mr. Pattullo's generosity is exceeded only by his generosity and common sense, we should like to see him sent into the woods attired only in the cheap outfit of logging boys which would be all the outfit available to the fortunate possessor of $10. He might sell his work and wage into the bargain. A 7.50 duffel coat thrust into his hands as a wage with which to "start from the forest" (as did our much discussed foreman) is other news. He would be glad as he would be hard put to try for breeches, socks, shirts, a hat.

Over 200 tons of berries would be processed by the Vancouver Island Co-operative Exchange this summer, now that the Fruit-growers' Association had acquired the Cedar Hill cannery at Lake Hill, William Kersey, manager of the exchange, declared today.

"We have six different labels for processed loganberries in England," Mr. Kersey said. "And altogether we expect to pack and ship 10,000 cases."

"We expect to send seventy-five tons of strawberries to the Old Country," he continued. "We have the orders lined up, though we are not definitely certain of them yet. We will also can cherries, and we may possibly put down apples in gallon containers."

The Cedar Hill plant, which was formerly owned by Charles Richardson, has just been bought by the co-operative. It consists of a full size lot, with a building 60x30 feet, and extensive canning equipment.

The right to use the Cedar Brand labels was also secured in the deal. The cannery will be renovated and brought up to the most modern standards before beginning operation this summer. An up-to-date grader which will grade and process loganberries will be installed.

In previous years the Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange has rented establishments for its canning needs. Last year it used the cannery of the Cedar Brand plant, while the year before it rented a place it has just bought.

The amount paid Mr. Richardson for the premises was not disclosed.

Testifies To Lawyer

MRS. M. E. ROSE, 36 Academy St., St. Catharines, Ont., now has plenty of pep and tells in a legal statement how Fruit-a-tives helped give it to her. Mrs. Rose testifies: "For a long time I was bothered with a weak stomach and indigestion. I was also listless and tired. Then I started to use Fruit-a-tives. They soon corrected my stomach ailments and toned up my whole system. Now I am healthy and have plenty of pep. It is easy to understand why Fruit-a-tives have helped bring health to Mrs. Rose and thousands of others when you realize what they are. A famous Canadian physician discovered Fruit-a-tives. He combined extracts of apples, oranges, grapes and figs with certain herbs and medicinal ingredients to make Fruit-a-tives the natural, safe, effective remedy it is. POPULAR STARS
AT PLAYHOUSE

Striking straight to the heart with its sincerity, its human qualities, and its poignant drama, "The Life of Vergie Winters" takes its place as one of the noteworthy screen achievements of the year. Not only does this HBC-Radio Picture at the Playhouse Theatre, provide Ann Harding with a distinctive and powerful role, but it also tells a story that makes such an one of the really beautiful romances of all time.

In her characterization of the suffering small town milliner, Vergie Winters, Miss Harding reveals superb artistry. Seldom does a star of her ability find so ideal an opportunity to portray a heroine of such sympathy and strength, and the result is nothing less than a delight.

John Boles, too, has perhaps the best role of his screen career, and the combination of his talents with those of Miss Harding is exceptionally effective.

The second feature is "Caravan," starring Loretta Young, Charles Boyer and Jean Parker.

Victor Herbert's classic opera, as the vehicle for filming the screen's first great musical adventure story, has brought to picture audiences of the Capitol Theatre one of the greatest musical works ever composed.

Produced on a spectacular scale by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with Jeanette MacDonald, the Queen of the Screen, and Nelson Eddy, American operatic baritone, hailed as a sensational "discovery" among romantic leading men, "Taughty Marietta" was filmed as a thundering drama of the romantic Creole days of St. Louis, a vehicle that gives to the famous Victor Herbert music the importance it merits.

"Taughty Marietta" is acknowledged one of the five greatest comic operas ever composed in America, the others being De Koven's "Rialto",

Popular Songs At Columbia

What is said to be the best music of the well-known melody makers will be heard in "Down to Their Last Yacht," when that musical extravaganza comes to the Columbia Theatre to-day.

Believing that even the best of the modern composers fail to create anything as big as every attempt, the producers engaged an unusual number of tunesmiths, and selected only the cream of their output.

Chief among those who contribute songs to the production is Ann Ronson, noted as author of the radio lyrics for the sensational success, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf." Others are Will Jason and Val Burton, composers for "So This is Love," which recently won the Academy award, and Cliff Friend and Ed Mitchell, a well known song writing team.

"David Copperfield" will open to-morrow at the Dominion Theatre. No photography in recent years has aroused more dramatic interest than "David Copperfield." Labeled among the immortal stories of all time, it frequently was described by Charles Dickens, its author, as "my favorite child." It is a story that has been read by untold millions since it first was published, and the presentation on the screen is awaited eagerly. The location have been taken with the original story, according to advance information. It remains a thrilling, dramatic and humorous tale of adventure and romance, just as Dickens wrote it.

New York Giants Take Two-game Lead In National League

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Czech Al Ulbrichson's University of Washington sophomore varsity crew have been made favorites to win the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., this week. The team is composed of eight freshmen of 1934 who swept to victory in the first race at Poughkeepsie. The varsity crew is composed of eight freshmen of 1934 who swept to victory in the first race at Poughkeepsie. The varsity crew is composed of eight freshmen of 1934 who swept to victory in the first race at Poughkeepsie.

Third, the squad Al Ulbrichson coaches at Seattle is young, averaging only a little over sixteen, but the team is composed of eight freshmen of 1934 who swept to victory in the first race at Poughkeepsie.

That power was demonstrated during the race with California. The Bears took a second place, and the Huskies pulled ahead to win by two-thirds of a second.

After that race Coach Ulbrichson remarked: "All we need is training to make a crew greater than the California crew. We have the other three factors, speed, strength and stamina."

Of course, plenty can happen before the Olympic selection is made next year.

The Huskies must prove their right for consideration by taking the Poughkeepsie classic, and to do that they must beat California's crew again, as well as eastern shells from Navy, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Cornell, Yale and other institutions.

California is the big threat to Washington's supremacy. The Bears can be counted on to be ready for revenge. They are one of the best crew teams in the country, and he is pointing his Bears to knock California's hopes higher than a kite at Poughkeepsie, as they did last year, when the Huskies were favorites.

But Ulbrichson has a much better crew this season. Last year, his crew shelled this season's regulars was from three to four lengths faster than the victory boat over a four-mile pull, the distance of the Hudson River classic.

In contrast to this, California's crew is practically the same outfit that won the 1934 regatta. It is the same outfit that won the 1934 regatta. It is the same outfit that won the 1934 regatta.

By process of consulting the signs of the zodiac, acquiring the hypnosis of a right-angled triangle, and digging into an old felt book, it follows that the Bears are up against a tougher proposition on the Hudson River this year.

Once by California, the Huskies must survive the trials next spring. But if they can win the Hudson race, they should take the trials in hand, and why not?

HOME RUN PARADE
Bill Terry, New York Giants' manager, smashed his way into the Big Six yesterday and rounded out a day of hefty hitting for all members except Gerald Walker.
Arky Vaughan set the pace with three hits in four times up and regained the lead with a thirteen-point gain to 400. Walker failed to connect in two official times up and dropped twelve points to 200. All the others, including Terry, gathered in two hits in four times up each for gains of from five to seven points. Terry replaced Johnny Moore of Philadelphia, who lost three more points.

Hal Schumacher Beats Cincinnati In Tenth Inning

Scores Thirteenth Victory Over Reds 6 to 5; Dizzy Dean Wins Another

Chicago Sox In Win Over Boston

Although a couple of seasons ago it might have been a simple matter to become a "jinx" to Cincinnati Reds, Hal Schumacher has carried it so far it threatens to become a serious affair now that the Reds are heading toward better things.

Since he broke into the National League as a regular in 1932, Schumacher has never lost a game to the Reds, and his string of triumphs now going into its fourth season, has stretched to thirteen games with a tie as the only interruption. The thirteenth triumph yesterday was almost as shaky an affair as the drawn battle two weeks ago. After building up an early lead, the New York Giants saw it fade away when a home run by Alex Kampouris started a sixth-inning flurry that tied the score at 5 to 5, and they had to go ten innings to win 6 to 5.

In addition to flinging a fine game except for that one inning, Schumacher knicked in three runs with a homer, a double and a fly, and did a lot of fielding to help out the crippled infield.

He was lucky to escape with his uniform intact when Dick Bartell, Hughie Critch and Travis Jackson were put on the sideburns to win the series 3 to 1 and increase their lead over Brooklyn to two games again.

The Dodgers took their second straight licking from Pittsburgh 5 to 6 when a four-run flurry over the top of the eighth inning, the Cleveland Indians returned to second with a 1 to 0 victory over the New York Yankees in the day's key battle in the junior circuit.

Walter Stewart, making his first Cleveland start, got the better of an eleven-inning slugfest with the Red Sox, but the Clevelanders won 4 to 1, but fell down in the afternoon to lose, 6 to 2.

Los Angeles took the series from San Francisco, three games out of four, by winning the afternoon game, 10 to 8. After barely losing the first one, 7 to 8, the Angels kept a good lead all the way through the nightcap.

Sacramento and the Missions staged an all-day batting party that saw the Reds come out on top, 12 to 4, before lunch, and the Solons retaliated with Portland by taking the morning game, 4 to 1, but fell down in the afternoon to lose, 6 to 2.

At Cincinnati—S. H. E. 10 to 1. Cincinnati's victory in the afternoon. Twenty-nine hits were chalked up by noon, and twenty-one more by the time the boys knocked off for the day.

Bike Races On Saturday

The Victoria Bicycle Club's weekly cup races, postponed from Good Friday, were given another boost over the week-end and will be run on Saturday morning, May 21, instead of the afternoon of May 21. The event will start at 10.30 o'clock at Beacon Hill. The switch was made to avoid conflict with other sports events listed for the city's celebration of May 24. Although the change will probably cut down the number of outside riders intending to drive for the laurels, invitations have been re-issued to Vancouver performers to participate.

Scottish Eleven Wins Second Game

Touring Footballers Defeat Eastern United States All-stars 5 to 1 at New York Before 33,000; "Daily" Duncan Stars With Three Goals

New York, May 20.—Scotland's soccer ambassadors of goodwill outscored a hand-picked eastern United States team here yesterday to win 5 to 1 for the second straight victory of their invasion. A crowd of 33,000 watched the men of the Scottish Football Association flash even finer passing than they did to outscore Philadelphia Germans by 3 to 0 in the Pennsylvania city Saturday.

The Scots were too well trained for their New York rivals, and after leading at half time 3 to 1, rammed in two more goals in the second half.

"Daily" Duncan stood out for the winners by netting three beautiful goals, but Tommy Walker, the $80,000 star, was in the middle of the making of nearly all the scoring plays. Walker dished the great passing with his remarkable footwork.

The United States players scored the first goal after eleven minutes through Johnny McEwan, former Syracuse University star.

SCOTTISH TEAM
The Scots drew level seven minutes later when Duncan forced the ball past Cheney from a pass by Main, and went into the lead with Billy Miller's goal, which resulted from a scramble in the goal mouth. McEwan fouled D. Wilson and Main; John made it 3 to 1 from the resultant penalty near half-time.

Duncan added his third and final goal at twenty-five minutes with a great shot from the touch line.

Teams follow:

Saanich Thistles Win McGavin Cup Final In Overtime

Williams's Goal Turns Back City After Keen Game

City Champions Continue Fine Record in Local Football With 2 to 1 Win

PEDEN CUP TO VICTORIA WEST

Ronald Williams' goal, half way through the first overtime period, gave Saanich Thistles, lower island champions the McGavin Cup in a bitterly contested final against Victoria City at the Athletic Park on Saturday. The final score read 2 to 1.

In the second division fixture which followed, Victoria West downed the City 3 to 1 in the Peden Cup final.

Although the Thistles had a decided edge in the "kick-off" game, it was a hard game for the City to lose. The backs of the defeated team turned in a sterling defence against the aggressive attacks of the Saanich squad and held them off until the second half play, while the City forwards made gallant, though sporadic attempts on the Thistles' goal.

The City had play by a wide margin in the first half but were forced on the defensive almost all the way through the second session and in the overtime Saanich made the best of their opportunities to take the trophy by a lone goal margin.

The Thistles attacked from the start but the City came right back. After conceding a corner and Leggett gave another as the maroon shirted squad hammered away.

Gelling starting as left wing for the City, hit the upright on a corner kick. After a clearance and George Payne skied over the bar on the first dangerous sortie. Chalmers saved nicely from George Payne as the City returned from the clearance and shortly after, the same City forward hit the upright on a smart drive that looked ticked for the rigging.

George Payne came in to juggle the rebound and shot in. The ball again hit the upright and came back to Jack Payne who waited it in while Chalmers was still out of position to give the City their only score of the game. The goal came twelve minutes from the start.

Reve saved a lovely drive from Sage as the Thistles went down. Robbins cleared a good Saanich attack but a foul by the City forward, who was sent off, saved a foul and the rest of the game was a close and smart performance as Saanich kept up their attacks.

Jack Payne missed a perfect chance on a set-up pass from brother George and Revere finally cleared as the City maintained pressure.

Well on to the half Chalmers fisted out a ball and pushed George back. Eddie Gibson missed on the attempt to gain control for a shot. Before Cull called for a penalty kick Eddie Gibson missed on the attempt.

The Thistles picked up at the end of the half and enjoyed a good share of the play without being able to score.

Gibson was hurt shortly after half time when he collided with Sage, but returned to the game after a rest. The Thistles had shuffled their line at the interval, Harper coming on for Gibson.

Reve cleared nicely as Campbell got through for a hard drive and Viggers missed again as the Thistles bored in.

Mage was playing a stalwart deceptive game for the City, clearing repeatedly as the Saanich forwards rushed his goal.

Morgan rifled a shot past the posts on a splendid effort that missed narrowly and Reve punched clear as Brown put in a nice drive on the goal.

Fifteen minutes from half time, Leggett lifted a high cross shot into the corner of the net that caught Reve flat-footed to put the teams on even terms.

Viggers drove over the crossbar as the Saanich boys returned and the City started to switch the forward line around.

The City came near scoring again on a pretty passing play between Barneswell, George Payne and Jack Payne, but Revere drove the ball past his own goal on the clearance. He missed clearing on his own team by inches.

The City went on the offensive from the corner but could not add to their count.

KEEP UP ATTACKS
Reve Morgan headed in a good corner from Brown as the Thistles returned to the attack, but Reve stopped nicely.

Viggers missed a bang-up chance on a fast pass from Sage and Mage. The City had play by a wide margin in the first half but were forced on the defensive almost all the way through the second session and in the overtime Saanich made the best of their opportunities to take the trophy by a lone goal margin.

Fine Trout Taken At Cowichan Lake

Charlie McNeill and Jim Jones, two of Victoria's most enthusiastic fishermen, tried their luck at the head waters of Cowichan Lake yesterday, and returned with fifteen beautiful trout, including one weighing seven pounds.

Included in the fine catch were rainbow, cut-throat and lake trout. The fish were all in fine condition, and offered great sport. The trout were taken on the fly and trolling.

Continuing to play steady golf throughout the afternoon round, after securing a two hole lead on the first eighteen holes, Mrs. J. Hutchinson, Victoria Golf Club, defeated Miss Peggy Allen, Gorge Vale, 6 and 4 in the thirty-six hole final for the British Columbia women's championship at the Colwood Club on Saturday.

Mrs. Hutchinson, in winning her first championship, succeeded Miss Kay Farrell, Vancouver, as provincial titleholder.

At the conclusion of the match the presentation of prizes was held at the clubhouse with Miss Lloyd Williams, England, ex-chairman of the British Ladies' Golf Union, distributing the awards and congratulating the winners and losers.

Playing in her first final the seventeen-year-old Miss Allen was unable to control her nerves and on the second round, especially, her usually sound game suffered as a result. During the afternoon play the youngster got herself into trouble continually and lost holes that otherwise she would have won or halved. However, she turned in a sterling performance all week and did well to gain the final bracket spot on the first round.

Mrs. Hutchinson, who has been knocking at the door of championship, played like a true champion and during the final sixteen made bed shots.

Starting the afternoon round two up Mrs. Hutchinson dropped the first hole when she failed to hit both her drive and second shot. The new champion regained her two hole margin by getting down a beautiful putt on the twentieth for a four.

Wins at the next two holes, which Miss Allen played poorly, gave Mrs. Hutchinson a four margin. The twenty-third and thirty-fourth holes were played with a par five and a par four respectively. Mrs. Hutchinson won the match by a two hole margin.

With leadership of the Commercial Bank League at stake the Eagles and Stockers will meet at the Athletic Park tonight, at 8 o'clock. Both clubs have undefeated records to date, and the match is expected to take the mood for the Eagles with Murray working for Stockers.

Wins at the next two holes, which Miss Allen played poorly, gave Mrs. Hutchinson a four margin. The twenty-third and thirty-fourth holes were played with a par five and a par four respectively. Mrs. Hutchinson won the match by a two hole margin.

Starting the afternoon round two up Mrs. Hutchinson dropped the first hole when she failed to hit both her drive and second shot. The new champion regained her two hole margin by getting down a beautiful putt on the twentieth for a four.

Portland Dog Best In City Bench Show

Waldron Expectation, Owned By W. L. McDougall, Takes Chief Laurels at Victoria City Club Event; Margo Robertson's Entry Second

An aristocratic Scottish terrier, Waldron Expectation, with but three more points to secure for a North American championship, came up from Salem, Oregon, to win major laurels at the annual spring show of the Victoria City Kennel Club at the Willows on Saturday evening.

The dog was entered by W. L. McDougall Jr., following a highly successful campaign in shows at Chicago, Omaha and Portland.

The animal was judged best in the show, above Margo Robertson's outstanding Sealyham terrier which finished second.

The senior show, with 207 entries, and the children's event, in which 100 dogs were entered, were held under the auspices of the Junior Women's Auxiliary of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Mr. McDougall's champion was awarded the Spratt's Patent Ltd Challenge Cup.

CHILDREN'S EVENTS
Keen interest was shown in the children's events, several of which called for handlers to appear in costume. Mrs. Gordon Kenning convened that section of the show with marked success.

INTERESTING DOGS
Mexican Chihuahuas, owned by Mrs. E. C. Colclough, Vancouver, claimed wide attention at the show. Jasper M. Daniels, of the Doorn Dog School, Lynnwood, B.C., showed the animals.

Irving G. Ackerman, San Francisco, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. F. B. Brown and J. H. Meldrum were judges. Mr. Ackerman was judge of all breeds and official of the show.

Miss Ince Curry was general convener. Entries were accepted from Mrs. Finland, Mrs. Gordon Kenning, Mrs. Shandley, Mrs. Beckton, the Misses Ruggie, Miss May Lee Rose, Mrs. Harford, Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Tyson.
